Entravision Delivers Exclusive and Most Extensive National Spanish Language Radio Broadcast Coverage of the 2019 NFL Centennial Season

2019-08-29

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 29, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Entravision Communications Corporation (NYSE: EVC), a diversified global media and advertising technology company serving Latino consumers, announced today that it will bring listeners the most extensive Spanish language radio broadcast coverage of the upcoming 2019 NFL Centennial season. Entravision will broadcast 46 games across 17 U.S. markets on its owned and operated stations, the most in its multi-year partnership with the NFL which extends through the 2020 NFL season. The games will also air on affiliate stations across the country.

Entravision's end zone to end zone full season coverage includes 2 Thursday night games, 17 Sunday Night Football games, 16 Monday Night Football games and 11 post-season games, including the AFC Championship, the NFC Championship and Super Bowl LIV in Miami on February 2, 2020. NFL coverage will kick off with the season's opening game on Thursday, September 5th, featuring a classic match-up between the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears.

Entravision's Sunday Night, playoff and Super Bowl LIV coverage includes a one-hour signature pre-game show, Pase Completo, followed by the live game broadcast and a post-game analysis. In its fifth season, Pase Completo features veteran sports game analysts Ricard Celis, a former college quarterback, and Tony Nunez, a passionate fan and sports broadcaster. The entire one-hour pre-game commentary will also be streamed on Facebook Live.

"The start of the NFL season is always exciting and this year we're especially proud to have the most extensive Spanish radio broadcast coverage of the NFL. The game of football has really found a home in the Latino market and there are more passionate NFL fans than ever," said Jeffery Liberman, President and Chief Operation Officer at Entravision Communications. "We look forward to being part of the NFL's 100th season and bringing unprecedented game coverage to our fans."
