Albertsons Companies, in Coordination with its Distributor Pacific Seafood, Recalls Select Oyster Products Due to Reported Gastrointestinal Illnesses in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas

Albertsons Companies, in coordination with distributor Pacific Seafood, has recalled oysters in the shell as well as shucked oysters that were supplied by Prestige Oysters, Inc. and Jeri's Seafood, Inc. The oysters were harvested in the southeastern area of Galveston Bay from Nov. 17 through Dec. 7. This recall was issued by the Texas State Health Department (DSHS) after receiving reports from consumers of gastrointestinal illnesses after consuming oysters from those waters. The recall announcement can be found here.

Consumers have reported symptoms to DSHS including fever, nausea, diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, chills and headaches. No hospitalizations have been reported at this time. Anyone concerned about an injury or illness should contact a healthcare provider.

The oysters from Galveston Bay were available for purchase at Albertsons, Randalls and Tom Thumb stores in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas from Nov. 21 to Dec. 12, 2022. Consumers who have purchased these items are urged not to consume these products and to dispose of them or return the items to their local store for a full refund.

Consumers with questions should contact Albertsons Companies' Customer Service Center at 1-877-723-3929 Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. CT.
