Introduction

If you are an employee of SS&C (or any of its world-wide subsidiaries and affiliates, collectively, “SS&C”) and you are involved in the provision of services to any SS&C client with a presence in the United Kingdom (UK) or the European Union (EU), you are subject to securities transaction restrictions additional to those set forth in SS&C Securities Transaction Policy (the “Master Trading Policy”). These restrictions are generally more stringent than those imposed by the laws of the United States and the Master Trading Policy. They cover you because of the nature of the services SS&C provides in the UK and the EU and arise under one or more EU Directives and/or Regulations and the UK equivalent legislation applicable to our clients, such as the Market Abuse Regulation, the recast Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II (“MiFID II”), the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (the “AIFMD”) or the UCITS¹ Directive and, in each case, the applicable UK equivalent legislation (together, the “Applicable UK & EU Laws”). The purpose of this UK & EU Supplementary Securities Transaction Policy (the “UK & EU Trading Policy”) is to establish policies and procedures sufficient to ensure compliance by SS&C with the Applicable UK & EU Laws and other legal and regulatory requirements, such as prohibitions on insider dealing, market abuse and the unlawful disclosure of inside information, applicable to SS&C and its employees, and to educate SS&C employees on their specific duties and obligations.

Background – The Applicable UK & EU Laws

Under one or more of the Applicable UK & EU Laws, some of SS&C's clients, particularly asset managers and broker/dealers established and licensed in the UK and EU, are required to confirm that their service providers – companies like SS&C – have adequate arrangements in place to prevent misuse of client information and other forms of market abuse. Client information is information that relates to the business of a client, is owned by that client and/or is information in respect of which SS&C owes the client a duty of confidentiality or is obligated under the Applicable UK & EU Laws to maintain confidentiality, such as inside information (“Client Information”). For the purposes of the Applicable UK & EU Laws, “inside information” means information that is precise, has not been made public, which relates, directly or indirectly, to an entity with securities listed and/or traded on a UK or EU trading venue which would be likely to have a significant effect on the price of the entity's securities if it was made public. Misuse of Client Information means disclosing that information in breach of a duty of confidentiality, prohibition imposed by the Applicable UK & EU Laws, or using that information (for example, by trading on the information) in a way that conflicts with the interests of the client or otherwise constitutes a breach of SS&C's obligations to its client or under applicable law (“Misuse”).
