The Corporation does not undertake and specifically disclaims any obligation to update any “forward-looking statements” to reflect occurrences or unanticipated events or circumstances after the date of such statements, except as required by the federal securities laws.

Net Interest Income ($MM)

Evolution of Loan Yields and Cost of Funds<sup>(1)</sup>

Key Highlights

- Net interest income amounted to $229.1 million, an increase of $8.1 million vs. the prior quarter; primarily reflecting the following:
  - A $4.5 million net increase in interest income on investments and cash balances due to purchases of higher yielding investments replacing lower yielding securities and the acceleration of an unamortized purchase discount on municipal securities that were refinanced, partially offset by a decrease in interest income from lower cash balances
  - A $3.3 million increase in interest income on loans related to 1) the acceleration of net deferred fees associated to a C&I refinancing and a $2.9 million increase in interest income on commercial loans partially attributed to the effect of one additional day in the quarter and 2) a $0.4 million increase in interest income on residential mortgage loans attributed to the payoff of a nonaccrual mortgage loan in Florida
  - A $0.6 million decrease in interest expense due to lower FHLB average balances which was offset by a $0.3 million net increase in interest expense on interest-bearing deposits mostly due to higher rates on interest-bearing government deposits paid during the quarter
- Net interest margin increased during the quarter by 12 basis points to 4.87%, mostly related to the acceleration of the unamortized purchase discount and net deferred fees associated with the refinancings during the quarter, which contributed 7 bps to the NIM expansion, and the deployment of cash flows from lower-yielding investment securities to higher-yielding assets

<sup>(1)</sup> Average cost of funds include cost of all interest-bearing deposits, non-interest-bearing deposits, and wholesale funding

SECOND QUARTER 2026 - PROFITABILITY DYNAMICS

Non-Interest Income ($MM)

Non-Interest Expenses ($MM)

Key Highlights

- Non-interest income of $35.7 million, compared to $37.7 million in prior quarter; the $2.0 million decrease was mainly due to:
  - $3.6 million in seasonal contingent commissions recorded as part of insurance commission income in the first quarter of 2026 based on the prior year's production of insurance policies
  - Partially offset by a $0.8 million increase in debit and credit card processing income driven by higher transactional volumes during the second quarter of 2026

Key Highlights

- Non-interest expenses of $127.3 million, relatively flat vs. prior quarter due to:
  - A $1.9 million net decrease in payroll expenses due to seasonal share-based compensation recorded in the first quarter and lower payroll taxes, which were partially offset by an increase in salary compensation mainly due to the effect of one additional day in the second quarter
  - A $1.2 million increase in credit and debit card processing expenses, mainly due to higher transactional volumes and a $0.9 million increase in business promotion expenses recorded in the second quarter
- Efficiency ratio relatively stable at 48%, below the 52% operating target

Non-Performing Assets ($MM)

Reposessed Assets and Other Non-Performing Loans NPAs/Assets

Non-Performing Assets ($MM) - Distribution by Segment

Reposessed Assets and Other Residential Commercial Consumer Construction

Total non-performing assets increased by $5.1 million to $113.9 million or 0.59% of total assets

- Increase in non-performing assets was driven by a $6.8 million increase in nonaccrual loans primarily attributed to the inflow of a $14.8 million C&I loan in Florida, partially offset by reductions in nonaccrual residential mortgage and consumer loans, mainly auto and leases
- Inflows to non-accrual loans held for investment were $40.7 million, an increase of $6.4 million when compared to the prior quarter, mostly driven by the aforementioned Florida commercial loan inflow, partially offset by overall reductions in consumer and residential mortgage loan inflows
- Loans in early delinquency (i.e., 30-89 days past due accruing loans) amounted to $143.4 million, an increase of $32.9 million vs. 1Q 2026, driven by a $20.7 million increase in consumer loans, primarily in the auto loan portfolio

Evolution of ACL ($MM) and ACL on Loans to Total Loans (%)

Key Highlights

- The allowance for credit losses (ACL) on loans and leases was $245.0 million, flat vs. prior quarter; the ratio of the ACL on loans and finance leases to total loans held for investment decreased to 1.85%
  - Variance mainly related to improved macro variables combined with improvements in delinquency in the consumer unsecured portfolios, partially offset by loan growth in the commercial and residential loan portfolios and higher delinquency in the auto portfolio
- Net charge-offs of $16.1 million, 0.49% of average loans, compared to $21.1 million or 0.65% in prior quarter, decrease mostly driven by a $4.7 million reduction in consumer net charge-offs, primarily auto loans and leases

Capital Ratios (%)

Key Highlights

- Total stockholders' equity amounted to $2.0 billion, an increase of $9.6 million vs. the prior quarter, driven by earnings generated during the quarter
  - Partially offset by $50.0 million in common stock repurchases, $31.0 million in common stock dividends declared during the quarter, and a $7.7 million decrease in the fair value of available-for-sale debt securities due to changes in market rates recognized as part of accumulated other comprehensive loss
- All regulatory ratios remain significantly above "well-capitalized" levels

Basis of Presentation:

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation contains non-GAAP financial measures. Non-GAAP financial measures are used when management believes that the presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures enhances the ability of analysts and investors to analyze trends in the Corporation's business and understand the performance of the Corporation. Where non-GAAP financial measures are used, the most comparable GAAP financial measure, as well as the reconciliation of the non-GAAP financial measure to the most comparable GAAP financial measure, can be found in the text or in the attached tables to this earnings presentation. Any analysis of these non-GAAP financial measures should be used only in conjunction with results presented in accordance with GAAP.

Tangible Common Equity Ratio and Tangible Book Value per Common Share

The tangible common equity ratio and tangible book value per common share are non-GAAP financial measures that management believes are generally used by the financial community to evaluate capital adequacy. Tangible common equity is total common equity less goodwill and other intangibles. Tangible assets are total assets less goodwill and other intangibles. Management and many stock analysts use the tangible common equity ratio and tangible book value per common share in conjunction with more traditional bank capital ratios to compare the capital adequacy of banking organizations with significant amounts of goodwill or other intangible assets, typically stemming from the use of the purchase method of accounting for mergers and acquisitions. Accordingly, the Corporation believes that disclosure of these financial measures may be useful to investors. Neither tangible common equity nor tangible assets, or the related measures, should be considered in isolation or as a substitute for stockholders' equity, total assets, or any other measure calculated in accordance with GAAP. Moreover, the way the Corporation calculates its tangible common equity, tangible assets, and any other related measures may differ from that of other companies reporting measures with similar names.
