"The fact that Ryder has been named a Green Supply Chain Partner each year for the past eight years is a tremendous honor," said Ryder President of Global Fleet Management Solutions, Dennis Cooke. "Awards like this illustrate the importance we continually place on striving to deliver excellence and innovation for our customers across North America."

Ryder was recognized for engaging with customers to help them "green" their transportation solutions by making natural gas vehicles (NGV) available to rent or lease. Customers are not only able to take advantage of Ryder's engineering expertise optimizing shipments, routes, and modes, but can also tap into Ryder's industry leading NGV program.

Ryder is the leader in NGV solutions for the commercial transportation industry, with more than 90 million miles of experience, 22 NGV maintenance facilities, and more than 5,500 NGV trained maintenance and support personnel. The Company also operates Liquefied to Compressed Natural Gas (LCNG) fuel stations at its Fontana and Orange, Calif., service locations where Ryder has partnered with Clean Energy Fuels to offer renewable natural gas, the cleanest fuel available today.

"Transportation and supply chain sustainability have always been top of mind for Inbound Logistics readers," said Inbound Logistics Editor, Felecia Stratton. "In a special 'Lean and Green' issue of Inbound Logistics, we are profiling Ryder as one of the 75 leading companies that our readers can turn to when seeking green supply chain management and logistics partners. Inbound Logistics' editors have determined the 2016 honorees are truly 'walking the walk' when it comes to commitment to transportation and supply chain sustainability. Inbound Logistics is proud to honor Ryder among this important group of industry-changing leaders."

Inbound Logistics' 75 Green Supply Chain Partners is featured in the magazine's June 2016 issue.
