

Vonage Names Industry Veteran Sanjay Macwan SVP of Enterprise Engineering and Networks

July 26, 2018

HOLMDEL, N.J., July 26, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Vonage (NYSE: VG), a business cloud communications leader, has appointed Sanjay Macwan SVP, Enterprise Engineering and Networks. Mr. Macwan will lead the Company's Enterprise Platform and Engineering teams to drive innovation and new development in Vonage's solutions for Enterprise customers. Mr. Macwan reports to Sagi Dudai, Chief Technology Officer.

"With his rich experience in delivering enterprise scale software and communications platforms and his proven leadership capabilities, I'm confident Sanjay will accelerate Vonage's culture of innovation and help us deliver outstanding results to our customers," Mr. Dudai said.

Mr. Macwan brings more than 20 years of experience to Vonage, with a strong background in technology leadership, strategy and execution. He has built and led highly successful technology innovation programs that have delivered transformation, operational efficiency and a sustained culture of innovation across multiple industries.

"Joining Vonage is an amazing opportunity to work with an innovative and customer-focused team," Mr. Macwan said. "I'm thrilled to be collaborating with Sagi and team as we chart and execute a multi-year enterprise platforms and network roadmap to bring industry leading innovations to Vonage enterprise customers."

Prior to Vonage, Mr. Macwan was the Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer at NBCUniversal Media Labs, where his team helped the company deliver next-generation content experiences leveraging emerging technologies including virtual reality, augmented reality, IoT, machine learning and more across various platforms. His team was also an early collaborator with the Amazon Echo (Alexa) platform and developed numerous voice-enabled content experiences. Earlier in his career, he spent many years at AT&T Labs, leading large scale R&D in multimedia, mobility, information security and cloud that contributed to AT&T's large-scale consumer services such as IPTV and Mobility as well as enterprise mobility, cloud, networking, and information security services.
