

Vonage and Yameo Announce Strategic Partnership, Offer Custom Video Solutions Throughout Europe, Africa and the Middle East

December 1, 2020

LONDON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 1, 2020-- Vonage (Nasdaq: VG), a global leader in cloud communications helping businesses accelerate their digital transformation, has announced a strategic partnership with Yameo, a software company based in the Netherlands. With over 15 years of experience in IT development, support and maintenance for clients around the world, Yameo creates extended IT systems tailored to a business's individual needs from back- and front-end solutions to mobile applications. With this partnership, Yameo will offer customers reliable and customisable video solutions powered by the Vonage Video API.

The Vonage Video API makes it easy for businesses to build a custom video experience within any mobile, web or desktop application. Integrated within Yameo solutions, the Vonage Video API enables global companies in the insurance, healthcare, retail, finance and non-profit sectors to smoothly transition from in-person to remote delivery of services, without using third-party video conferencing software.

DEKRA, a Yameo customer and vehicle inspection company based in Germany, is leveraging the Vonage Video API to power the new and improved i2i remote inspection tool. With social distancing and restrictions related to the COVID-19 pandemic, the DEKRA i2i tool allows insurance agents to quickly, easily, and reliably make visual contact with clients in any location, safely and responsibly.

"Together, Vonage and Yameo can deliver efficient, effective and tailored software solutions that leverage the innovation of the Vonage Communications Platform," said Maciej Krajewski, CEO, Yameo. "Vonage is a leader in video, and we're excited to offer our customers access to the Vonage platform so that they can quickly and easily build and integrate the kind of remote communications solutions that meet the growing demands of the market."

"The COVID-19 pandemic has led to a secular change in how business gets done and accelerated digital transformation for businesses around the globe," said Omar Javaid, President, Vonage API Platform Group. "Businesses must rely on technology to build disruptive solutions that provide virtual connections and remote delivery of services to meet customer demand, and we're excited to be working with Yameo to empower their customers to do just that."
