Verisk Welcomes Olumide Soroye to Its Board of Directors

8/18/2022

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Aug. 18, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Verisk (Nasdaq: VRSK) today announced that Olumide Soroye has been appointed independent director of the company's Board of Directors effective immediately. Soroye brings three decades of leadership experience across multiple industries.

"Olumide's experience in software, data analytics, AI, and growth-minded leadership make him an exceptional addition to Verisk's board," Verisk CEO Lee Shavel said. "We look forward to working closely with Olumide to ensure that we continue to drive value and positive impact for all Verisk stakeholders including shareholders, clients, employees and partners."

Soroye, 50, is president and chief executive officer of Fortive Corporation's Intelligent Operating Solutions segment. Before Fortive, he held leadership roles at CoreLogic, where he was managing director of property intelligence & risk management, and QuinStreet, where he was senior vice president of the company's technology and home services business. Prior to that, he was a partner with McKinsey & Company where he drove growth & innovation strategies for several world-class technology companies.

He earned an MBA from Harvard Business School, J.D. from Loyola Law School, and a bachelor's degree in metallurgical & materials engineering from Obafemi Awolowo University in Nigeria.

Bruce Hansen, chairperson of the Verisk Board of Directors, said, "We've added extensive experience to our board with the addition of five new board members over the last year. Olumide is a welcome addition who brings an invaluable mix of experiences and skills at a pivotal moment in the company's growth trajectory."
