"Picture this: you arrive at the clinic for a doctor's visit and are comforted by the safety of the meticulously cleaned waiting and exam rooms, or you're arriving at your hotel after a long flight to find a pristine and spotless lobby and room waiting for you. These everyday moments, often taken for granted, are made possible by people who clean, organize, and tidy up spaces so others can enjoy them. Yet these individuals and their contributions that profoundly improve the health, safety, and comfort of our communities rarely get recognized," said Pat Schottler, SVP, Chief Marketing & Technology Officer at Tennant Company. "Tennant aims to change that by celebrating the work cleaning professionals do every day through the Cleaning All-Star Sweepstakes."

The Sweepstakes invites nominations for exceptional cleaning professionals who make a positive impact in their communities. We're seeking to honor and recognize individuals in all sectors, from building service contractors to volunteers at community centers, to grocery store cleaning staff who consistently go above and beyond to keep spaces clean and safe.
