Customer Product Safety and Health Policy

Effective June 2025

Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) Committee

Overview

The policy provides an overview of our priorities, key stakeholders, accountability and how we implement our commitment. We base our approach on the recommendations of the OECD/Legal/0459 Council on Consumer Product Safety. This policy applies to all geographic locations and applies equally to our suppliers, vendors, and partners performing work on VPG's behalf.

Our Commitment

At VPG, we recognize that all of our customers have a right to products that are safe under reasonably normal or foreseeable conditions of use. Further, VPG believes that compliance with product safety requirements helps ensure a safe, fair and competitive product marketplace.

We are committed to keeping customers safe by informing them of our products' potential risks and impacts.

These product risks and impacts may include regulatory risks, or potentially toxic chemicals contained in or accidentally released from the product or its accessories (batteries) during its use to its ultimate disposal or recycle.

Customer Product Safety and Health Policy

We aim to support this commitment by:

- Reviewing manufacturing inputs for risks and impacts through distribution to ultimate consumption/use by the customer;
- Providing sound evidence and data regarding risks and impacts through 3rd party testing, technical and/or engineering documentation and reviews, and communicating it through release notes and/or safety instructions and/or use guides and safety related labelling; and
- Ensuring product traceability and timely product recall notifications.

Where any stakeholders may believe there is a product safety and health concern , the stakeholder may at any time contact VPG through the Ethics web-page <https://ir.vpgsensors.com/sustainability-governance/esg-overview/default.aspx>
